DESCRIPTION

The interplay of three major employment laws is complicated and fraught with challenges.

These laws include the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), the Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA), and Workers' Compensation.

You'll learn how to recognize and evaluate the interplay of the ADA, the FMLA, and workers' compensation laws as all three laws may be involved in employee absences.

This seminar will cover the purpose of the three different laws and how to create processes to effectively manage compliance.
